About This Report

This report helps families review public information about a nursing home in one place. It brings together public data on staffing, inspections, penalties, ownership, and quality signals so you can better understand what stands out and what questions to ask. This report is a starting point, not the only basis for a decision. Families should combine this information with facility visits, direct questions, and advice from trusted professionals.

Based on public records, here are the areas that may deserve your attention. A concerning pattern does not prove poor care in every case, but it may suggest topics to discuss directly with the facility.

This facility scores higher than most on our risk indicators, which combine staffing, inspection, penalty, and quality data. This may warrant closer review.

State inspectors found conditions serious enough to be classified as "immediate jeopardy" — the most severe type of inspection finding — on 4 occasions.

Inspectors confirmed that residents were directly harmed by facility conditions on 4 occasions.

The facility has been fined $156,358 by the federal government for regulatory violations.

This facility is part of a larger chain (HCCF MANAGEMENT GROUP XI LLC, 27 facilities) with an average rating of 2.2 out of 5 stars.

All findings are drawn from public CMS and state records as of March 2026. See Data Dates & Limitations at the end of this report.

3. Staffing Overview

Staffing is one of the strongest public signals families can review. Lower staffing or higher turnover may affect how consistently residents are monitored, assisted, and supported. The numbers below come from data facilities report to CMS and may not fully capture day-to-day variation across shifts.

4. Inspection & Penalty History

Inspection findings and penalties can help families understand whether regulators identified repeated or serious concerns. A higher number does not prove unsafe care in every case, but it may suggest areas to ask about directly.

Data Source:

Inspection deficiencies documented on CMS Form 2567 (Statement of Deficiencies and Plan of Correction), issued by state survey agencies under contract with CMS. Each deficiency cites a specific federal regulation under 42 CFR Part 483 — Requirements for States and Long Term Care Facilities.

California facilities are additionally subject to Title 22, Division 5 of the California Code of Regulations.

Top Deficiency Categories

The most frequently cited problem areas indicate where this facility consistently fails to meet federal standards. Categories reflect the type of care or operational area cited in health deficiency inspections.

Most common: Quality of Life and Care

31 citations

Most common: Resident Rights

23 citations

Most common: Pharmacy Service

19 citations

Immediate Jeopardy Context (42 CFR §488.301): Immediate jeopardy citations indicate conditions that have caused, or are likely to cause, serious injury, harm, impairment, or death to a resident. This facility has received 4 such citations.

Complaint-Driven Investigations

Complaint Investigations (3-year window):	41
National Average:	7

41 complaint-driven investigations indicate a pattern of reported concerns from residents, families, or staff. Each complaint investigation was triggered by a formal complaint filed with the state survey agency.

Note: Complaint investigation data is no longer available on Care Compare as of 2/25/2026. This count is reconstructed from CMS Health Deficiency inspection records (2017-Dec 2025).

Above-Average Complaint Activity: 41 complaint investigations exceed the national average of 7 over a 3-year period. Elevated complaint activity can indicate systemic care deficiencies not captured by routine inspections alone.

Fire Safety Violations

Life Safety Code Violations:	16
National Average:	13.55

Life Safety Code violations are cited during separate fire safety inspections conducted under NFPA 101. K-level violations — the most serious — indicate conditions that could impair evacuation or emergency response for a largely non-ambulatory resident population.

Antipsychotic Medication Use

Antipsychotic medications carry FDA black-box warnings in elderly patients and are a known tool of chemical restraint (42 CFR §483.12). The March 2026 OIG report identified facilities with rates exceeding national norms as enforcement priorities. This facility's antipsychotic prescribing rate did not reach the elevated threshold (risk score ≥ 3) that triggers inclusion in our alert dataset, suggesting prescribing patterns are within expected ranges. This finding should be verified directly with CMS Part D data for the most current information.

Areas of Concern

Immediate Jeopardy: 4 citations

Immediate jeopardy citations (42 CFR §488.301) indicate the most serious form of noncompliance — conditions that have caused, or are likely to cause, serious injury, harm, impairment, or death.

Actual Harm: 4 citations

Actual harm citations indicate residents were directly and negatively affected by facility practices or conditions.

High Financial Penalties: $156,358

Repeated or severe violations resulted in substantial civil monetary penalties.

Methodology & Verification

The Oversight Report compiles findings from structured public CMS datasets and selected state sources, then normalizes and cross-references those records into a facility-level evidence file with source dates, versioning, and citations. Attorney-facing reports are generated from a frozen evidence bundle and reviewed through a verification workflow that checks data freshness, numeric consistency, citation support, benchmark validity, and language safety before release. Reports that contain unresolved inconsistencies, low-confidence joins, or unsupported claims are held for human review rather than delivered automatically. This approach is designed to make each report traceable, contestable, and defensible.

Every substantive claim is tied to a source record, reviewed for consistency, and delivered with clear data dates and limitations.

11. Disclaimer

This report is generated from public CMS and state datasets using a structured evidence workflow with source dates, citations, and verification checks for numeric consistency, freshness, and language safety. Attorney-facing outputs undergo human review before release; the report is intended as an evidence-organizing tool, not a substitute for independent legal analysis or case-specific investigation.

This document does not constitute legal advice, medical advice, or a recommendation for or against any specific facility. Risk scores represent patterns in federal data that may warrant further investigation.

Facilities should be evaluated through personal visits, consultation with healthcare professionals, and review of current inspection reports. Conditions may have changed since data collection.
